Brief Report

This area of mathematics has applications in various fields such as physics, chemistry, cryptography, and computer science. Group theory is used to study the symmetries of geometric objects, leading to applications in crystallography and molecular chemistry. Error-correcting codes in computer science and communication systems are designed using concepts from group theory. Group theory is fundamental in the study of symmetries in quantum mechanics, leading to a better understanding of physical systems.

Conclusion:

Group theory is a powerful mathematical tool with diverse applications across various disciplines. Its study provides insights into the structure and behavior of mathematical objects, making it a crucial topic for degree-level students in mathematics and related fields.

Significance:

Group theory is significant for degree students as it provides a foundational understanding of abstract algebra, facilitates the study of symmetries in various disciplines, and offers powerful tools for solving problems in quantum mechanics, coding theory, cryptography, and beyond. The skills developed through the study of group theory contribute to a well-rounded education in mathematics and related fields.

STSN GOVERNMENT COLLEGE, KADIRI
DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

- Develop critical thinking skills by analyzing and synthesizing complex mathematical concepts, fostering a deeper understanding of abstract algebra and its applications.

Feedback from the Students:

The workshop conducted by department of Mathematics is useful for understanding symmetry and its properties. It helps in the study of various symmetries that arise in different branches of mathematics and science, such as crystallography, chemistry, and physics. The important applications of group theory are: Since group theory is the study of symmetry, whenever an object or a system property is invariant under the transformation, the object can be analyzed using group theory. Group theory, like many mathematical disciplines, requires regular practice and exploration. Some students may struggle if they don't invest enough time in problem-solving and application.

Introduction: The COVID-19 pandemic has brought unprecedented challenges to economies worldwide, and India is no exception. The students of STSN Government Degree College (GDC) in KADIRI recently participated in a two-days workshop led by the esteemed resource person, Mr. Sreeramulu, a lecturer in commerce at GDC Anantapur. The workshop aimed to delve into the multifaceted impact of the pandemic on the Indian economy. This report summarizes the key insights and discussions from the workshop, attended by 120 participants.

Day 1:

Understanding the Economic Disruptions the first day of the workshop commenced with an overview of the pre-pandemic Indian economy, setting the stage for understanding the subsequent disruptions caused by COVID-19. Mr. Sreeramulu highlighted the major sectors affected, such as manufacturing, services, and agriculture. The participants engaged in discussions on the sudden decline in economic activities, disrupted supply chains, and the challenges faced by businesses during lockdowns.

1. Sectoral Analysis: Several sessions were dedicated to a detailed sectoral analysis. The manufacturing sector faced supply chain disruptions, labor shortages, and a decline in demand. The services sector, particularly hospitality and tourism, experienced severe setbacks due to travel restrictions and social distancing measures. Agriculture faced challenges in terms of labor shortages during critical harvesting periods and disrupted market linkages.

2. Government Interventions: The participants also discussed the various measures taken by the Indian government to mitigate the economic impact. These included fiscal stimulus packages, reforms in labor laws, and initiatives like 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' to promote self-reliance. The effectiveness of these measures and their impact on different sectors were analyzed.

Day 2:

Adapting to the New Normal the second day of the workshop focused on how businesses and individuals adapted to the 'new normal.' The discussions revolved around digital transformation, remote work, and the acceleration of e-commerce. Participants explored the role of technology in mitigating the economic impact and the opportunities it presented for innovation and growth.

3. Global Economic Landscape: The workshop also touched upon the interconnectedness of the Indian economy with the global economic landscape. The participants discussed how the pandemic led to changes in global trade patterns, supply chain realignments, and the need for international cooperation to address common challenges.

4. Future Outlook: Dr.R. Sreeramulu shared insights into the possible future trends and challenges that the Indian economy might face post-pandemic. The participants actively engaged in discussions on the importance of building resilience, embracing technology, and fostering sustainable practices for long-term economic growth.

ORGANISED BY
PHYSICAL EDUCATION & NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME
(21 JUNE, 2022)

The Department of Physical Education and National Service Scheme of STSN Govt Degree College organised workshop on YOGA on the eve of International YOGA Day on 21st June, 2022.

Objectives and Learning outcomes:

- To give more awareness on YOGA and its uses
- to self-reflect, control the breath, achieve deep relaxation, and grow through meditation etc
- To give better mental, emotional and physical health as we challenge the mind and body through a sequence of yoga Asanas.

YOGA and Its Importance:

Yoga is a mind and body practice. Various styles of yoga combine physical postures, breathing techniques, and meditation or relaxation. Yoga is a physical, mental and spiritual practice that originated in ancient India. First codified by the sage Patanjali in his Yoga Sutras.

International Yoga Day is celebrated on 21st June annually. The whole world comes together and practices Yoga Asanas on this day for better health and well-being. The theme for 2022 is “Yoga for humanity”. This year’s theme of international yoga day will focus on the importance of yoga in serving better mental health in our life. “Yoga is an invaluable gift of India’s ancient tradition. It embodies unity of mind and body; thought and action; restraint and fulfillment; harmony between man and nature; a holistic approach to health and well-being.

It is not about exercise but to discover a sense of oneness with you, the world, and nature. Changing our lifestyle and creating consciousness, can help in well-being. Over the last few decades, there has been an upsurge in the prevalence of yoga. Medical professionals and celebrities are also adopting and recommending the regular practice of yoga due to its various benefits. Yoga is not a religion; it's a way of living that aims towards a healthy mind in a healthy body. Man is a physical, mental and spiritual being; Yoga helps in developing the balance between all the three as stated in Ayurveda in India. Other forms of exercise, like aerobics, only assure physical well-being. These exercises have very little to do with the improvement of spiritual or astral body.

Yoga is not just about bending or twisting the body and holding the breath. It is a technique to bring you into a state where you see and experience reality simply the way it is. If you enable your energies to become exuberant and ecstatic, your sensory body expands. The founder of Yoga, Patanjali stated, "Sthiram Sukham Asanam." It implies that a posture that appears to be firm and agreeable is your asana. You may be astounded to know that an asana is just a preliminary step into the act of yoga. It is a way that encourages you to achieve the greater good. Yoga focuses on idealizing concordance between your mind, body, and soul. When you adjust yourself so everything functions brilliantly within you, you will draw out the best of your capabilities.

Some of the Advantages of Yoga are as follows:

- Improves brain function
- Lower stress levels
- Alters gene expression
- Increases flexibility
- Lowers blood pressure
- Improves lung capacity
- Relieves anxiety
- Relieves chronic back pain
- Lowers blood sugar in diabetics
- Improves sense of balance
- Stronger bones
- Healthy weight
- Lowers risk of heart diseases

Yoga as a practice has innumerable benefits that positively affect an individual both physically and mentally. The YOGA Trainer has given some tips and practical experience. The above benefits are may be understood by the Participants and they get the benefits of the programme. Finally the programme was a grand success.
