Introduction:

This report highlights the remarkable efforts of the students of Sericulture at STSN Govt Degree College in implementing lab-to-land technologies during the academic year [Year]. The students have played a pivotal role in bringing scientific advancements to the fields and farms, particularly in the Kadiri region. The projects covered several crucial aspects of sericulture, including soil reclamation, mulberry variety selection, agronomical practices, silkworm rearing, and farmer awareness programs.

1. Soil Reclamation:

Students conducted soil reclamation activities in collaboration with local farmers. This initiative aimed to improve soil quality, making it more conducive for mulberry cultivation. Soil testing, analysis, and the application of suitable soil conditioners have contributed to enhanced crop yields and sustainability in sericulture.

2. Selection of Suitable Mulberry Variety:

Students focused on selecting the most suitable mulberry variety for the tropical climate of Kadiri. Extensive research was conducted to identify varieties that could thrive in the local weather conditions. This project has led to the introduction of resilient mulberry species, which can withstand the challenges posed by the climate, thereby benefiting local sericulturists.

3. Agronomical Practices:

Various agronomical practices were initiated, such as:

- Land Selection: Detailed studies were carried out to help farmers choose the right land for mulberry cultivation.
- Pruning Techniques: The implementation of proper pruning methods has improved mulberry plant growth and quality.
- Micro Irrigation: Adoption of micro-irrigation systems has conserved water and boosted crop productivity.
- Organic Manure Use: Promoting the use of organic manures has enhanced soil fertility and sustainability.
- Panchagavya and Jeevamrutham Preparation: Students educated farmers on the preparation of these organic formulations, which have proven beneficial for mulberry growth.

4. Silkworm Rearing:

The students organized workshops and training sessions on silkworm rearing, equipping local farmers with the knowledge and skills needed for efficient cocoon production. This has contributed to increased income for farmers.

5. Farmer Awareness Programs:

To create awareness among local farmers, several activities were conducted:

- Training to Sericulturists from Junior Colleges: Junior college students were educated on scientific technologies in sericulture, thereby building a strong foundation for future sericulturists.

- Pathogenicity and Silkworm Disease Awareness: Farmers were informed about the various diseases that can affect silkworms, enabling them to take preventive measures. Additionally, they were encouraged to transition from multivoltine cocoon production to bivoltine methods, resulting in improved cocoon quality and productivity.

23.II.Best Practice of the Institution:

Spreading Hope, One Pint at a Time: Our Ongoing Partnership with Area Hospital Kadiri for Blood Donation Camps

Apart from practicing Soil and Ecofriendly activities, the past year has witnessed remarkable accomplishments in our institution's Annual Blood Donation Program and Lab to Land Program for farmers. These initiatives reflect our commitment to community well-being and agricultural advancement. We are proud of the positive impact our programs have had on the community and look forward to continuing our journey of service in the coming year.

Introduction:

The partnership between STSN Govt Degree College and the Area Hospital Kadiri in organizing blood donation and blood testing activities has emerged as one of the best practices in our institution. This report aims to shed light on the significant contribution of our college students to this initiative, their growth in terms of personality development, and their increased sense of social responsibility. These activities are an integral part of our National Service Scheme (NSS) initiatives, which aim to instill in our students a sense of social responsibility and humanity, particularly concerning the need for blood donations.

Blood Donation Activities:

The collaboration with Area Hospital Kadiri has enabled our college to actively participate in blood donation activities, where our students willingly and voluntarily donate blood. These activities have been pivotal in providing a steady supply of safe and quality blood to meet the needs of the hospital and the larger community. Our college students have played an indispensable role in supporting this cause by offering their blood to help those in need.

Blood Testing Activities:

In addition to blood donation, our college has actively participated in blood testing activities, where students and faculty members undergo blood tests to check for various health parameters. This initiative is not only beneficial for the individuals being tested but also contributes to creating awareness about the importance of regular health check-ups and early detection of health issues. 1. Blood Donation Program: The Annual Blood Donation Program has been a significant event in our institution for several years. We are pleased to report the following accomplishments:

- Regular Blood Grouping and Donation Camps: Our institution has organized Blood Grouping and Donation Camps at regular intervals in collaboration with the Government Hospital Blood Bank. These events have been well-attended, with both students and staff members actively participating. This consistent effort demonstrates our dedication to contributing to the critical need for blood in medical emergencies.
- Community Collaboration: After blood grouping, we ensure that the donor list is shared with local area hospital authorities. This enables them to reach out to donors in times of emergency, potentially saving lives. It also reflects our strong connection with the local healthcare infrastructure.
- Support for Anemic Students: We have extended our commitment to health by identifying anemic students during these camps. Through friendly counseling sessions in the presence of expert doctors, we delve into the causes of anemia, such as malnutrition and other factors. This proactive approach to student health has been well-received, ensuring that our students receive the necessary support and guidance.

Personality Enhancement:

Participating in blood donation and blood testing activities has had a transformative effect on our students' personalities. It has instilled qualities such as compassion, empathy, and a sense of altruism. These experiences have provided opportunities for personal growth and character development, fostering a strong sense of community engagement and social responsibility among our students.

Social Responsibility:

The NSS activities, including blood donation and testing, are at the core of our mission to inculcate a sense of social responsibility and humanity among our students. These initiatives are a way for our students to give back to the community, create a healthy society, and build stronger relationships based on shared values and a commitment to the welfare of others.

Conclusion:

The blood donation and testing activities carried out in association with Area Hospital Kadiri are a testament to the dedication and commitment of our students and faculty. They exemplify the values we hold dear at STSN Govt Degree College, where we believe in nurturing well-rounded individuals who are not only academically sound but also socially responsible and compassionate.
